

NEW LIFE BEGINS IN RUINED CITY OF VALPARAISO

Business Resumed, but Public Health Menaced
by Unburied Dead.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 23.—Some of the business houses here reopened to-day for the first time since the earthquake. Telephone and telegraph communication with Santiago has been re-established, but the lines are almost exclusively used by the Government officials. The city is still under martial law, traffic ceases at 9 o'clock in the evening and everybody is compelled to take some part in the work of restoring normal conditions.

As a first instalment the Government has appropriated $4,000,000 for the relief of the destitute. The Custom-House was reopened to-day and traffic by water and rail has been resumed. The postal service is also in operation.

One of the greatest difficulties encountered by the authorities is the ferment of the bodies recovered from the ruins, as all the cemeteries were destroyed. At the various temporary morgues heaps of coffins have accumulated, awaiting the designation of their place of burial.

The work of recovering the bodies is being pushed to the utmost in order to avoid an epidemic, in fear of which many families are leaving the city.

The whole length of Brazil avenue and all over Victoria Square large sheds have been constructed to shelter the homeless from the severe rains which have been falling.

A movement is on foot to organize a company to facilitate the raising of the money necessary to reconstruct the city. It is proposed to advance the sums needed without interest for the first six months. The plan is to construct the new buildings of light materials and to lay out the streets so that they will have a uniform width of twenty metres.

All the provinces of the North and South which have not suffered from the earthquake are sending supplies of food and money to the cities and towns which suffered from the disturbance. Valparaiso is still without street lighting, but order is maintained by the severity of the authorities, who continue shooting all persons who are caught committing robberies.

JUMPED IN CANAL TO RESCUE HEROES

Three Men Get a Drenching
Besides McCluskey, Who Originally Fell In.

When James McCluskey, twenty-two years old, fell off an ice barge in Wallabout Canal, Williamsburg, to-day, there was a war of heroes. First, Joseph Flaherty and Joseph Cavanaugh jumped into the water. A few minutes later Policeman Patrick Bannon, of the Clymer Street Station, joined them, and the four men had a great fight with the swiftly running current.

When the two Joes—Flaherty and Cavanaugh—plunged in they were swept under the piling of a pier, and McCluskey was carried down the canal. Policeman Bannon waited until he felt sure the would-be heroes were not in the running for a medal. Then he stripped off his jacket, trousers and helmet and started to work. First he got McCluskey and swam back with him to the pier, where a rope was put down by one of the gang of ice loaders. After McCluskey was hauled up, Flaherty, holding Cavanaugh's head above water, Bannon helped get Cavanaugh to dry land. McCluskey was so full of Wallabout water that he was taken to the Williamsburg Hospital.

Girl Who Will Marry Hero Who Rescued Her.

When Isaac Fordon, of No. 38 Forsyth street, wedded pretty little Dora Goldstein, of No. 23 Rutgers place, next Tuesday about all the east side celebrities who are in town will turn out to see what is the outcome of a romance that began in the good old fashioned way of having the man rescue the girl from drowning. It was at Sea Side, Rockaway, last August, that Fordon plunged from the pier to aid Miss Goldstein, who was seized with a cramp while swimming.

They were not acquainted then, and after the young man had been thanked by the girl and her parents he saw little of her until about two months ago, Miss Goldstein did not know he was proprietor of a shoe store on Forsyth street, and it was by accident that she dropped in to make a purchase. They

Summer Suits at Half Price

THE "big clean-up" in the Clothing Store begins to-morrow. The first day will be the best day because the picking is easier and the sizes are all present.

We especially feature to-morrow's selling the astonishing variety and character of clothing that we shall offer at

Five Dollars

At this price we shall sell all the suits that were originally marked $10. There are about 450 suits in the lot, and better choosing no man has ever had at this price.

Both two-piece and three-piece suits are included. The former are made of flannel, homespun, woolen crash and fancy wools, in single and double breasted cuts; trousers with bell-bottoms and roll-bottoms. The three-piece suits are in the most popular patterns that this season has shown—the very overalls and mixtures that have proved the best sellers.

Further description is unnecessary. Enough has been said to make a whirlwind day of it. If it were not for the time we take to give a careful fitting the 450 suits would not last 450 minutes at this price.
